1936

Dear Bill

I'll try to write a little more sence in your book. I'll try and show my sober side. I sure wish you the best of luck and succe Keep up your singing and you'll probably go a long way. Well I guess I'll close and go home.

Best Wishes
Yours pal & Friend
Art Johnson

Dear Sir:

Although we all though school I think we'll still have a lot of fun; foolin' arou He sure had a good time frinking aroun in school, didn't we, or did we? (Quoted fro Dick Prasch.);

It's all your guys fault that my mothe ooh, sister and many of my friends get mad because I sing. You fellows sh know what you did when you start singing.

Seriously I wish you the best luc in the world. I have had a lot of fun going through school with you,

("Signed")

Sophomore Class

THE youngest class at Stadium, that of 1938, was launched with Ray Bucsko as president. He was assisted in his duties by Jean Ray, Betty Heaton, Mary King, Marie Joseph and Douglas Hicks who held the positions of vice-president, secretary, treasurer and Student Council representatives respectively.

Ray Bucsko

The main social function on the Sophomore cruise was the annual sweater dance which the class sponsored. It was held January 24, with Louie Grenier's orchestra playing. Jeanne Lewis and Marion Rolstad tap danced during intermission and Dot Delong and Marion Brush sang.

Sophomore Boys' Club, organized last year, to urge sophomore boys to participate in school sports, had as its president, Bob Davies. The posts of vice-president and secretary-treasurer were filled by Carl Opolsky and Bill Zenk. A Sophomore Boys' Mixer was given.

Prominent members in the class are Bob Davies, who though only a sophomore, has earned varsity letters in both football and basket ball; Mary King, treasurer of the class and a participant in numerous activities; Carl Opolsky, also prominent in sports, and Jean Ray, another class officer who is active in Thespian work as well as school activities.

The class colors are ivory and crimson.

Jean Ray, Betty Heaton, Mary King, Marie Joseph, Doug Hicks

Brice Howard, Betty Perkins, Camille Ness, Marshall Whitacre.

Student Council

TWO outstanding accomplishments brought about by the student governing body, the Student Council, under the able leadership of Brice Howard, were the revival of baseball as a major sport, and the organization of a new club, the Stadium High Christian Union. The aim of this club, the constitution of which was accepted by the council in April, is to promote Christian fellowship among the students.

Football Night, with Julia Joseph as chairman, was enthusiastically received. Masters of ceremonies for the affair, which was carried out in a Quarterback Sneak idea, were Brice Howard and Bob Philip, who were ably assisted by their favorite stooge, Gertrude McCutcheon.

The usual three sweater dances for Stadium's dancing feet were held at intervals during the term. The three classes, sophomore, junior and senior, sponsored them.

Representing Stadium in the Tacoma Junior Red Cross Council were Betty Gene Williams and Marshall Whitacre, chosen by the council. Brice Howard was the Student Council's delegate to the student leaders' conference at the University of Washington.

A successful drive for the sale of activity tickets was sponsored. Class officers, yell leaders and Boys' Council representatives were elected under the council's supervision.

Officers were: Brice Howard, president; Bette Perkins, vice president; Camille Ness, secretary, and Marshall Whitacre, treasurer.

Girls' Club

PILOTED by the animated President Julia Joseph, the Girls' Club had one of its biggest and best years.

The social department, headed by Wanda Webster, sponsored one of the most outstanding mixers, "The Melody Mart," ever given by the club. Under the leadership of Helen Hoska, the school welfare department welcomed the Sophomore Sisters, decorated the lunch room and served at P.-T. A. meetings. Making and arranging attractive decorations in the halls at Christmas time, designing clever greeting cards and producing plays in girls' assemblies was the work of the fellowship department under Marjorie McDowell's direction. Some of the duties of the service department, successfully guided by Patsy Ansley, were to provide 75 needy families with Thanksgiving cheer, to make scrapbooks and send girls to the Community House as instructors. The club also gave candy sales, personality meetings and a spring tea for the advisers.

The president and three other students represented Stadium at the leaders' conference at the University of Washington last October.

Row 1: Bob Davies, Brice Howard, Bob Richards, Ray Nicola, Willie Glundberg, Ed Pedersen.

Boys' Council

OVERSEEING all affairs concerning Stadium boys is the one big and responsible duty of the Boys' Council.

During the year the council, under the leadership of Earl Platt, arranged for the award and vocational assemblies and enforced the smoking rule.

This organization is composed of 12 students. A nominating committee, appointed by Student Council, selects 10 candidates from each class. Five seniors, four junior and three sophomore boys are elected from this group.

This year's officers were: Earl Platt, president; Archie Heaton, vice president, and Lee Bickenbach, secretary.

Speakers' Bureau

GIVING its members training in public speaking and informing students as to the week's activities are the two important and extremely helpful duties of the Speakers' Bureau. Meetings are held before school on Friday. On the following morning its members give news announcements in the roll rooms.

Officers were: Brice Howard, president; Marshall Whitacre, vice president, and Dick Prasch, secretary.

New officers elected in February are: Maida McEachron, president; Virginia Hamilton, vice president, and Gretchen Kunigk, secretary.

Row 2: Elaine Severin, Georgia Hills, Shirley Scott, Jean Coblentz, Wanda Webster, Martha Rutherford, Julia Joseph, Marjorie McDowell, Bill Prasch, Charles Swanson, Sara Jayne Perkins, Betty Williams, Rosemary Stewart.

Activity Managers

THOSE students who sell activity stamps in the roll rooms on Tuesday, hand out World tickets on Friday and handle the purchasing and distributing of Tahomas are the activity managers, selected one for each room. At the first of each semester a meeting is held to instruct the new managers in their duties.

Introduced in September, 1934, the activity ticket plan has completed its second successful year. With this ticket, containing a certain number of stamps, a student may attend, without direct charge, such important school functions as football and basket ball games, Football Night, matinee dances, the opera and the class play. One of these tickets also entitles the owner to receive The Tahoma and The Stadium World.

The activity ticket system is a great improvement on the old method, as it is economical, encourages attendance at school functions and takes care of the Junior Red Cross fund.

Row 4: Laurine Johnson, Maida McEachron, Lloyd Peek, Lois Hodgin, Warren Winslow, Pat Johns, Mat Stevens, Harold Birdsall, Don Fairweather, Everett Berkhart.
Row 3: Signa Byrd, Gwen Roach, Bob Jenkins, Loyd Peck, Wesley Robinson, Howard Brownlee, Bill Stimpson, Bob Philip, Chuck McNary, Wilbur Roberts, Arnold Schurbt.

Attendance Clerks

THE complicated job of checking the roll is placed each semester in the hands of the study hall assistants. In performing this task, the assistants must list all students who are absent from study hall and then check with the library, the absentee list and the gym. Other helpers sign re-entry slips or handle the library notes and yellow slips. About 40 students make up this efficient group.

Study Hall Assistants

Compiling the absentee lists for the benefit of the teachers, checking all excuses and irregularities of attendance and doing other bits of clerical and typing work are a few of the duties of those energetic young ladies who work in the attendance room under the guidance of Mrs. Laursen.

For each period of the day there are two girls working in the attendance room. During the first and last periods of the day other girls collect the slips upon which the teachers mark absences.

Row 4: Patricia Tallant, Jack Siegle, Susan Simpson, Emma Tollifson, Edward Pedersen, Con Smith, Earl Platt, Hal Weaver, Wesley Robinson, Vincent Lucich, Harry Werbitzky, Mary Jane Hendrickson.
Row 3: Ruth Hansen, Gladys Hanson, Pat Kloss, Irene Doten, Pat Williams, Frances Collier, Elizabeth Rawlings, Marjean Stier, Bette Perkins, Bob Richards, Bob Philip, Jeanne Lamoreaux, Dick Pease, Joe Price, Luella Keush.
Row 1: Teresa Whelan, Marie Mulligan, Olga Vidos, Doreen Beerbohn, Martha Hoyt, Doris Anderson, Marge McDowell, Harriet Peterson, Lillian Hendrickson, Dorothy Hallam, Ellen Anderson, Audre Bidwell, Frances Miller, Arta Hayes, Vivian Schofield, Dorothy Swan.

Row 2: Betty Eernisse, Martha Newberg, Malca Kleiner, Marcella Frederick, Mary Ann Hawthorne, Frances Cruver.

Stage Crew

A GROUP that works faithfully with little recognition by the students is the stage crew. Without this organization our operas, class plays, assemblies, football nights and other productions would be much less colorful. Mr. Waters was adviser; LeRoy Barter was manager; Manley Smith, electrician; LeRoy Barter, electrician; Mark Hipkins, curtain; Dick Laursen and Lester Ellison, bridge.

Row 2: LeRoy Barter, Mark Hipkins, Dick Larson, Howard Stine, Lester Ellison.
Row 1: Manley Smith, Mr. Waters, Barbara Schumacher, Jimmie Fowler, Dick Laursen.

Library Assistants

UPON completion of a course in library methods, the library assistants are assigned to the various phases of the work, which includes slipping books, sending overdue notices, checking in magazines, lending books and taking charge of the library at noon.

Library clerks record the attendance and deliver permits to study halls.

Bill Pedersen, Audre Bidwell, Dora Mae Rice, Beryl Cunningham, Hannahrose Douglass, Richard Reynolds.

Scenery Painters

THE painting of the scenery for this year's opera, "Countess Maritza," was the duty of the scenery painters, a noble crew who, as usual, did their work well.

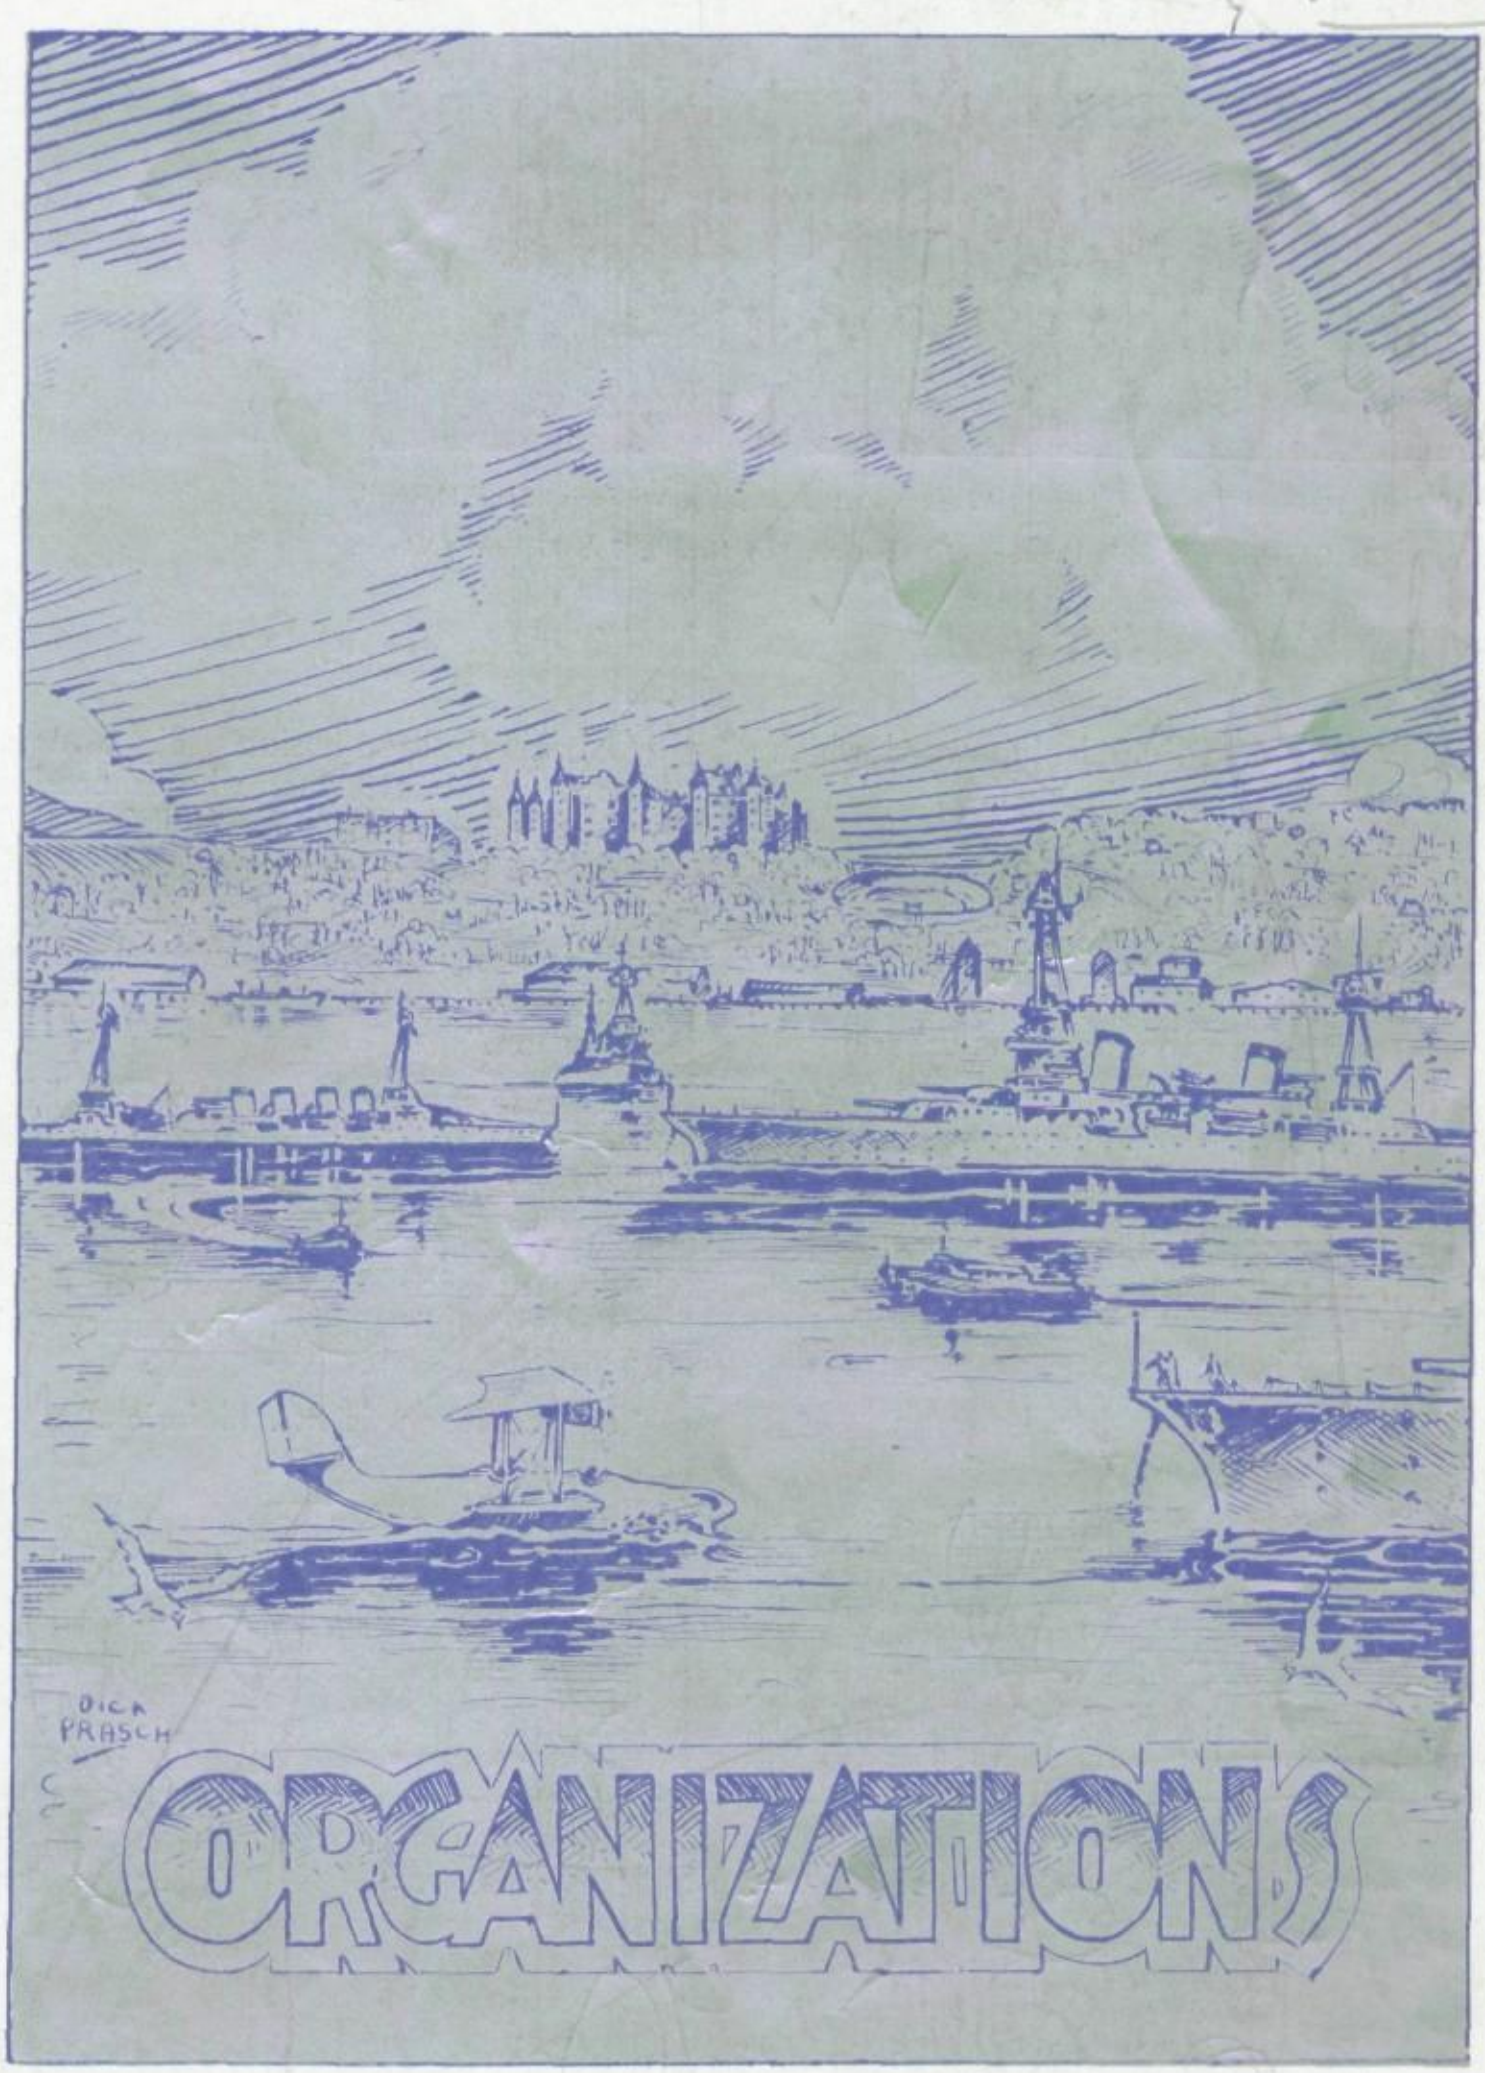
This group, headed by Dora Mae Rice, consisted of five students who were chosen by Miss Tripp, art instructor, in January.

Lunch Room Crew

WHO are the smiling students who serve you those delicious hamburgers and turkey dinners? None other than the lunch room crew of 27, who, under the able guidance of Miss Miller, director of the entire lunch room staff, work an hour each day in the cafeteria. Credit for a 20-cent lunch is given them in return for their services.

Row 3: Arthur Raphalowitz, Dan O'Connell, Ellis Bidwell, Phil Linden, Layton Stalcup, Roy Funk, Bob Dugan, Glenn Collins, Verner Nelson.
Row 2: Burns Anderson, Kenneth Hagen, Everett Sovereign, Pat Pilant, Earl Kennedy, Charles Carter, John Anderson, Harold Swanson.
Row 1: Raymond Tveter, Margaret Mae, Lillian Sovereign, Harriette Gage, Marian Fregeit, Jean Harrington, Miss Miller, Art Larson, Douglas Barlett.

Lots of luck to you Bill + don't forget all our good times at school and at the dances. You are sure a swell friend. Sincerely Rudy.



Row 2: Lee Bickenbach, Earl Platt, Howard Brownlee, Harold Weaver, Pat Johns, Jim Williams, Brice Howard, Ed Pedersen, Marshall Whitacre.
Row 1: Ed Busse, Bob Philip, Willie Glundberg, Archie Heaton, Mr. Lowman, Ray Nicola, Bob Richards, Wayne Jackson, Lewis Jones.

Hi-Y

OUTSTANDING is the word which describes the boys in Hi-Y.

To help the Elks' Stocking-Fillers the club gave the "Howdy Dance" in October, its first school affair.

You've seen the members ushering at the opera and selling programs at the Thanksgiving Day game.

The fall officers were: President, Ray Nicola; vice president, Bob Philip; secretary, Bob Richards; treasurer, Marshall Whitacre.

The adviser was Mr. Lowman.

Big S

TO basketball enthusiasts, Big S members were the lettermen who ushered at basket ball games. To football fans they were the boys who roped off the section for Stadium students at home football games. To the Stadions loitering in the halls they were the ones who said, "move on."

To raise money for a scoreboard Big S gave a skating party jointly with Hi-Y.

Big S officers were: President, Ed Pedersen; vice president, Earl Platt; secretary, Bob Philip; treasurer, Bob Richards.

The adviser was Mr. Heinrick.

Triple S

MAKING orange and blue pompons for the Turkey Day game and serving at teas outside Stadium—these services were given for the first time by this organization.

The adviser was Mrs. Fowler.

Stadiana

STARTING the year off with their usual pep, Stadiana chose the yell queens—Sara Jayne Perkins, Marjorie McDowell and Mildred Barnhart. Later Geraldine Hughes joined the ranks.

The members helped make Football Night a success and added color to the Turkey Day game by taking part in stunts.

The adviser was Miss McCulloch.

Row 4: Dixie Thompson, Frances Summers, Lenore Meissner, Marjorie Johnson, Esther Hagberg, Jean Ray, Helen Salberg, Julia Joseph, Betty Bannister, Ruth Norton, Marie Gilstrap, Margaret Gilstrap, Sara Jayne Perkins, Margaret Laithamer.

Rifle Club

A NATIONAL title, three cups and ten medals was what Stadium shooters won in the second series of the Bi-Weekly Interclub Rifle Matches in April. The victory was won by a score of 2790 to 2730 made by the nearest opponent.

The girls held their own by winning the "B" division during the second series of the bi-weekly matches. In the last match fired they made a score of 494 which was fourth among 90 teams in every part of the United States.

With two perfect scores, the first team, ten boys, won the first series of the bi-weekly matches.

The scores were totaled according to each of the series, the highest number of points for both determining the national winner.

The officers were: President, Bob Mollett; vice president, Beth Funk; secretary, Marjorie Paulson; treasurer, Ruth Bergerson.

Mr. Arpke was the adviser.

Row 1: Betty Green, Neldamae Baker, Nancy Nicolson, Merrill Rich, Mr. Collais, Claris Johnston, Doris Nisonger, Dorothy DittBenner.

International Club

UNDER the guidance of Miss Hart, a new adviser, International Club put lots of new ideas into practice.

These Stadions were responsible for the clippings of world news on the bulletin board in the front hall.

Small gold pins were awarded to ambitious members who had done the required work in the club.

At their meetings the "Internationalites" studied many countries through talks by outside speakers and reports by the members themselves.

The officers were: President, Lavaun McCall; vice president, Virginia Dougherty; treasurer, Mary Jane Coors; program, Joan Worley; publicity, Jean Ray; correspondence, Patsy Ansley.

Architectural Club

EQUIPPED with sketching pencils and paper, Stadium architects began the year's activities with a series of sketching practices.

Visits to the American Institute of Architecture sketching contest in Seattle and to the liner, President McKinley, and a picnic to elect fall officers rounded out the club's program.

All the officers except two held their respective offices during the whole year. They were: President, Warren Fletcher, succeeded by Merrill Rich; vice president, Claris Johnson; secretary, Nancy Nicolson; treasurer, Doris Nisonger; advertising, Betty Green; posters, Tom Hall, succeeded by Dorothy Ditt Benner.

The adviser was Mr. Collais.

Row 3: Edith Mae Hammond, Star Steele, Amy Calkins, Frances Cruver, Elizabeth Culbert, Virginia Dougherty, Robert Pearsall, Howard Fowler, Bob Brower, Francis Larson, Miriam Geiger, Signa Byrd, Doris Wiseman, Doris Day, Patsy Ansley.

Row 1: Shirley McDonald, Helen Baisch, Janet Hatch, Mary Gordon, Gretchen Kunigk, Marge Miller, Betty Wetherley, Jim Hayes, Glenn Parker, Lee Doud, Dick Strinsky.

Ski Club

HER fellow skiers certainly were proud of their president, Gretchen Kunigk.

She won a medal by taking first place in four out of six novice slalom races and a pin by coming in second in her first downhill expert slalom race at Mount Tacoma.

Prof. W. E. Tomlinson of the College of Puget Sound, a veteran mountain climber, spoke to the club in November, stating that "In climbing a mountain you must first know what you are up against."

The officers were: President, Gretchen Kunigk; vice president, Jack Fuller; secretary, Marge Miller; treasurer, Glenn Parker.

The adviser was Mr. Palmer.

Boat Club

WHEN other Stadions were trudging home after school on Tuesdays, the future Magellans were often out on Don Raleigh's launch enjoying the salt air. Their cruises have taken them around Commencement Bay and Vashon Island.

The explorers can tell you about shipyards, too. They have seen the fireboat in action. They can describe the engine room of the liner President McKinley.

The officers were: President, Judd Day; vice president, Robert Hansen; secretary-treasurer, Bob Childs.

The adviser was Mr. Clark.

Row 2: Louis Terio, Bob Hale, Jim Hoy, Don Raleigh, Everett Burkhart, Bob Phillips, Duane Hamilton.
Row 1: Richard Read, Grant Burkman, Judd Day, Mr. Clark, Robert Hansen, Bob Childs, Earl Garrison.

Stamp Club

THE adoption of a point system and a pin and the holding of the stamp exhibit on the night of the Senior Class play were the main events on the club's calendar. Auctions, talks and reports were given at the meetings.

The fall officers were: President, Lavaun McCall; vice president, Carl Johnson; secretary, Helen Sohlberg; treasurer, Leslie Goucher; publicity, Ernest Daz; program, Gilbert Kneiling; membership, George Hartwick.

The spring officers were: President, Lavaun McCall; vice president, Mary Jane Coors; secretary, Helen Sohlberg; treasurer, George Hartwick; program, Dorothy Johnson; publicity, Vivienne Meilicke; membership, Ernest Daz.

The adviser was Mr. Kennard.

Scrip and Plume

DICK RIGGS took first and second places in the short-story contest sponsored by The World. Ruth Cannon's poem, "A Fact About a Soldier," and Jean Van Pelt's, "War, the Glorious," were sent to a newspaper interested in peace work.

In November the group met with the Poetcrafters, a club of adult Tacoma poets, to learn the advanced mechanics of writing poetry.

Because of her heavy work as head of the English department Miss Alcott, in April, turned over the duties of adviser to Mr. Daniels.

The officers were: President, Ruth Cannon; vice president, Beryl Cunningham; secretary-treasurer, Miriam Geiger.

Aquarium Club

EVERY Monday a group of Stadions gathered around an aquarium, studied fish — especially egg breeders — and auctioned off to each other their fish "non grata."

The fall officers were: President, Jim Morris; vice president, David Parker; secretary, Margaret Wilson; treasurer, Walter Phelps; program, Bob Churchward; publicity, Barbara Mock.

The spring officers were: President, Bob Taylor; vice president, Nancy Nicolson; secretary, Dorothy Ditt Benner; treasurer, Idabelle Arnold; publicity Barbara Mock.

The adviser was Mr. Prentice.

Fourth Estate

FOR the purpose of promoting good journalism and giving recognition to students excelling in this field, a press club was organized April 30.

From the name given the press by Edmund Burke in the English parliament, and at the suggestion of Mr. Hoffman, adviser, the club was named Fourth Estate.

All editors and managers of school publications and members of Quill and Scroll are ex officio members, with others others having met specified requirements accepted into the membership.

Molly Lamken

Fall World Staff

OUR CASTLE ON THE HILL—a sky-line sketch of Stadium High School, used as The World's nameplate—is symbolical of the castle motif used for the first time throughout the paper last fall. For this idea, which proved very popular, new titles were chosen for the various feature-page columns, such as "Castle Portraits," "Jester's Bells," "Palisade Points" and "Says the Sentinel." Another change was the transferring of the editorial page from page six to page two.

With Molly Lamken as its able editor and general manager, the tenth girl to hold this position, the fall issues upheld the traditions of former staffs. At the beginning of the semester, a four-page paper was issued semi-weekly on Tuesday and Friday. Because of the students' vote, after five experimental twice-a-week issues, The World went back to an eight-page weekly.

Other editors on the staff were: Phyllis Hall, news editor, whose position was raised to managing editor in November; Margaret Nichol, copy editor, who was promoted to news editor when Phyllis became managing editor; Janet Gould, feature editor, and Herbert Hite, sports editor. To relieve the editor of the task of writing the editorials, a new position of editorial writer was created. Marguerite Cousin filled this very well. Beidler Rutledge deserves credit for the clever and original way in which he handled the humor column.

The business manager was Edna Jorgensen. Herbert Clayman was circulation manager, with Ruth Cannon as his assistant. Frances Summers headed the advertising staff.

The Torch, formerly called the S Book, was revised and published in September by The World staff. These small books, that contain important facts about Stadium, sold for 10 cents. The old S Book, last printed in 1932, sold for 25 cents.

Molly Lamken went to Milwaukee in December to attend the National Scholastic Press Association convention. She also spent several weeks in Detroit, Michigan, visiting relatives and returned to school after Christmas vacation. In her absence, Janet Gould was acting editor. Herbert Hite, sports editor, and Herbert Clayman, circulation manager, attended the fifteenth annual high school leaders' and journalists' conference at the University of Washington in Seattle on October 31 November 1 and 2 as representatives of the editorial and business staffs, respectively.

The annual short-story contest sponsored by The World began November 1 and ended January 13. Dick Riggs, 12A, won both first and second places with his stories, "True Blend" and "Purely Coincidence." The prize was $5 and Dick's name was engraved on the Tahoma bronze. This is the highest literary honor at Stadium.

Spring World Staff

Janet Gould

JANET GOULD, feature editor during the fall, made a capable and dependable editor for the 16 spring issues. She was the twenty-seventh editor in chief and the 11th girl to hold that position.

Molly Lamken remained on the staff as student adviser, giving the staff the benefit of her long experience. She is the second person to hold this position. It was her fifth semester on the staff, the first student ever to serve that long.

Other members of the spring editorial staff include: Mobrey Jenkins, managing editor; Robert Hansen, news editor; June McCormick, feature editor; Ray Nicola, sports editor, and Miriam Geiger, editorial writer. Beidler Rutledge remained from the fall staff as humor columnist.

Edna Jorgensen, business manager; Herbert Clayman, circulation manager, and Frances Summers, advertising manager, continued in these positions during the spring semester. Judd Day was the new assistant circulation manager.

Herbert Hite won fourth place in the national division of the Quill and Scroll high school writing contest with a sports story on a basket ball game. Herbert received a gold key for placing among the ten highest in the national sports division. Charles McNary and Paul Barrager were joint winners of first place in the ad-writing section of the Pacific Coast group. Jeanne Lamoreaux placed third in the headline writing contest in the same division.

The paper did not enter either the Columbia or National Scholastic Press Association contests, results of which are announced in the spring. After high ratings in these had been won year after year, it was felt that little further was to be gained from the usual criticisms made by the judges. Instead, the staff was left free to try innovations to give the paper greater interest and value for the students, rather than attempting to make it conform to a standardized pattern.

Due to lack of funds, the staff had not held a banquet for several years. This spring, however, a banquet including both spring and fall staffs was held at the Bonneville Hotel. After dinner, a program was given with an "amateur hour" motif in which staff members participated.

Led by Frances Summers, the spring ad staff was one of the best that has ever served on The World. Although not finally decided, it is expected that the paper will be enlarged to five columns and eight pages next fall.

Herbert Hite

Tahoma Staff

FEATURING a blue cover with a contrasting silver emblem, the fourteenth Stadium annual, edited by Herbert Hite, introduces many new and outstanding features. The seal on the cover is made of heavy silver foil embossed with the picture of an anchor upon it. For the first time, The Tahoma has colored section plates. These plates are the same colors as the cover, blue and silver, thus carrying out the class colors of '36. Although the book contains more pages than last year, there are no new sections.

The art motif "Navy" was carried out successfully by Art Editor Dick Prasch and his talented assistants—Beidler Rutledge, Warren Fletcher and Myrtice Hoit. This group of students turned out some of the finest work that the annual has ever had.

Judging from the number of pictures entered in the snapshot contest, it seems that there is nothing many students would rather see than their own pictures in action—or otherwise. The winning snapshot was entered by Dick McKinney, 12A. As a prize he received a large box of candy, which was presented to him in an assembly by Editor Herbert Hite. Dick submitted several snapshots taken with an ordinary camera and, as a special touch, a roll of films taken on a single-shot movie camera. The picture which won the prize is of a boy sitting down with his feet up, a pipe in his mouth, and reading a copy of Esquire. The entries were judged by The Tahoma staff.

The printing contract was awarded to F. B. Wines Company, while the Liberal Engraving Company did the engraving. Senior pictures were taken by the Hartsook Studio, and the group pictures by Associated Photo Service. Johnson-Cox made the attractive cover.

Tahoma Staff

Laurine Johnson

Snapshot Editor Charles McNary took many characteristic pictures of well-known Stadiumites, as well as familiar scenes and places around school. These snapshots appear in the section known as the "Calendar."

Because the number of subscriptions was greater than ever before, the assembly usually given to advertise The Tahoma was not held this year. More than 1,800 students subscribed for the annual—thus breaking all records and exceeding all expectations. This excels last year's sale by nearly 150 books. The increase is due probably to the large enrolment this year.

Laurine Johnson, the business manager, and Herbert Clayman, the other half of the business staff, made fine managers.

Editor in Chief Herbert Hite and the editorial staff were faced with the difficult task of keeping up to the high standard of former Tahomas and reached their goal in a creditable manner.

Molly Lamken, assistant editor, put into use her many semesters of World experience and proved to be an able assistant to the editor. Sports Editor Jack Powell was well suited to writing boys' sports because of his prominent place in athletics. He handled his assignments like a veteran, as did Jean Coblentz, sports editor for the girls. Marguerite Cousin and Stanley Tuell were good workers in compiling the writeups for the largest class ever to graduate. Jeanne Lamoreaux and Joe Price efficiently handled picture appointments. Phyllis Anderson did the music, drama and debate stories in a creditable manner. Incidentally, Phyllis had the music, drama and debate beat while on the World staff and so knew all the ins and outs. Dixie Thompson and Margaret Nichol, who handled activities and organizations, respectively, continued their fine style of work so ably demonstrated in former World service, as did Lenore Meissner, whose assignment was publications.

After the staff has slaved for months amid stacks of copy and piles of proof, you will hastily scribble all over the pictures and writeups—"Yours truly." It's a great life!

Mr. Hoffman
Mr. Giltner

Advisors

EVER helpful with suggestions and new ideas, Mr. Hoffman, journalism instructor, has guided The World to its present high position.

In 1934 Mr. Hoffman received a gold key from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association as a symbol of his achievements. This spring he was awarded the Pioneer Key, honorary award of the National Scholastic Press Association.

Fourteen of his sixteen years of teaching journalism have been at Stadium. Prior to that he taught at Stanford two years.

To publish a first-class annual at a reasonable cost is the problem of Mr. Giltner, financial manager and general supervisor of The Tahoma. But 13 years' experience, a good sense of business and of giving wise advice to the staff are his qualities that solve the problem.

He is also the World's financial director, appoints its business manager, and, acting upon his recommendations, the Junior Cabinet selects the Tahoma editor and business manager each year.

Quill and Scroll

IN spite of having only six members, the Melville E. Stone Chapter of Quill and Scroll very successfully closed its tenth year. Margaret Nichol brought honor to the school by winning second place in the news-judgment division of the national Quill and Scroll contest held last fall, while Charles McNary took first place in the ad-writing contest in the Pacific Coast division of a similar contest held this spring.

To become a member one must have had a B average for two preceding semesters, have done superior work in some phase of journalism, be recommended by Mr. Hoffman, journalism instructor, and approved by the international secretary-treasurer.

The man for whom Stadium's chapter was named, Melville E. Stone, was one of the world's greatest journalists. He served for 25 years as general manager of the Associated Press.

Row 1: Ruth Allie, Ed Prentice, Brice Howard, Camille Ness, Bob Arpke, Margaret Pence, Margaret Lemieux, Marion Mulligan, Chuck McNary.

Opera

RIVALLING all previous Stadium musical extravaganzas in singing, dancing and dramatic interest, the opera "Countess Maritza" under the direction of Mr. Johnson, played to capacity audiences on March 26, 27 and 28.

Especially pleasing were the clear voices of Margaret Pence and Robert Arpke in the leading roles of Countess Maritza and Count Tassilo, the hilarious comedy of Brice Howard as Prince Populesco and Ray Nicola as Zingo, and Camille Ness' characterization of the gypsy Manja.

The 14 spectacular and colorful dances, ranging from adagio to burlesque, were originated and trained by Geraldine Hughes, Marie Amet, Doris Christian and NaDara Hansen.

Members of the cast were: Auctioneer and customers, Bud Fechter, Elwin Sterling, Claude Perry; Nepomuk, Harold Bourdon; Lazlo, Norman Smith; Tscheko, Charles McNary; Capt. Stefan, Edward Prentice; Lona, Helen Emmons; Jada, Alberta McCall; Nona, NaDara Hansen; Sonia, Ruth Allie; Lieut. Strauss, Glenn Parker; Freda, Elna Sundquist; Princess Klopensheim, Marion Mulligan.

Row 2: Garth Dickens, Bill Prasch, Douglass Miller, Lloyd Baker, Craig Dightman, Dick Prasch, Stanley Tuell.
Row 1: Wanda Webster, Virginia Dougherty, Emilie Bennett, Gene Kelton, Miss Black, Phyllis Anderson, Marguerite Barry, Margery Gordon.

Senior Class Play

CLIMAXING the year for the Seniors was the unusual and fascinating play, "Berkeley Square" presented under the direction of Miss Black on May 15 and 16.

The magical ability of Peter Standish to walk back and forth through time forms the theme of this fanciful and amusing romance.

In the leading roles, Margery Gordon gave a sympathetic characterization of the dreamy Helen and Garth Dickens was especially well suited for the role of Peter. For her brilliant portrayal of Kate, Marguerite Berry deserves commendation.

The following completed the cast: Emilie Bennett, the maid; Lloyd Baker, Tom Pettigrew; Virginia Dougherty, Lady Ann Pettigrew; Craig Dightman, the ambassador; Lavaun McCall, Mrs. Barwick; Wanda Webster, Marjorie Traut; Stanley Tuell, Major Clinton; Gene Kelton, Miss Barrymore; Phyllis Anderson, Duchess of Devonshire; Douglas Miller, Lord Stanley; Bill Prasch, Mr. Throstle, and Dick Prasch, Duke of Cumberland.

Special credit was due John Adams, business manager; Bob Hansen, publicity chairman; Merrill Rich, stage properties, and Gene Kelton, Craig Dightman and Mary Frances Wilson, prompters.

Row 2: Bill Prasch, Dean Tuttle, Garth Dickens, James Hicks.
Row 1: Gene Kelton, Miss Black, Lavaun McCall, Frankie Lockwood.

Christmas Play

THE story of how a bitter old man found happiness and a long-lost daughter by doing a slight kindness to a group of poor families was well portrayed by a cast from the work-shop class at a double Christmas assembly.

The play was supervised by Miss Black, dramatics instructor, and captained by Lavaun McCall, who was also assembly chairman.

The cast was: Thornton, Garth Dickens; Servant, Bill Prasch; First Man, James Hicks; Second Man, Jim Morris; Woman, Hazelgrace McHaney; Mary Thornton, Frankie Lockwood; Helen Thornton, Gene Kelton; Fitch, Dean Tuttle.

Lincoln Day Play

TO commemorate the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, a play was presented at the Lincoln Day assembly by members of Miss Black's oral classes.

"The Day That Lincoln Died" is a drama of the Civil War period, showing how the President's death affected a pioneer family.

Under the direction of Miss Black, the play was captained by Garth Dickens.

The cast was as follows: Squire Rockwood, Bill Prasch; George Rockwood, Bob Prins; Ezra Middleton, Dick Prasch; Bud Wilder, Dale Pierce; Lawyer Bradley, Judd Day; Susie Bradley, Margery Gordon; Mrs. Rockwood, Virginia Dougherty.

Row 2: Judd Day, Garth Dickens, Bob Prins, Dale Pierce.

Row 2: Jean Jespersen, Dorothy Rudell, Idabelle Arnold, Marcia Woods, Herbert Clayman, Shirley Shannon, Marjorie Jenson, Helen Wiltschko, Adelaide Broomfield, Jeanne Woods.
Row 1: Ruth Pauline Todd, Betty Willison, Ed Unger, Jessie Willison, Phyllis Linden, Dorothy Rasmussen, Maida McEachron, Frank Mallory.

Orchestra

SUPPORTING the chorus and dancers and playing the colorful music for the opera, "Countess Maritza," composed the greater part of another successful year's work for the 52-piece orchestra directed by Mr. Johnson.

In addition to presenting the annual music assembly at Stadium and furnishing talent for assemblies and programs, the group played for various Tacoma clubs and presented assemblies at the Jason Lee and Mason Intermediate Schools.

For their services this year the members received merit emblems.

Solo Orchestra

COMPOSED of 21 expert musicians selected from the regular orchestra, the solo players made a perfect accompaniment for the songs and furnished incidental music for the dialog of the opera, "Countess Maritza."

Members of the solo group were Idabelle Arnold, Roberta Armstrong, Don Baker, Adelaide Bloomfield, Howard Brownlee, Kenneth Clark, Herbert Clayman, Marjorie Jenson, Jean Jesperson, Jim Lesher, Frank Mallory, Jerry Miller, Bob Mollet, Dorothy Rudell, Shirley Shannon, Ruth Pauline Todd, Ed Unger, Betty Willison, Jessie Willison, Helen Wiltschko and Jeanne Woods.

Row 1: Jack Obenour, Jimmy Wilson, Hal Paulsen, Bob Dugan, Charles Swanson, Brice Howard, Tom West, Ed Prentice, Jack Frost, Cliff Rawnsley, John Hopkins, Harold Bourdon.

Boys' Glee Club

THE 40 members of the Boys' Glee Club, as gypsies and soldiers, added materially to the outstanding success of this year's opera.

The club performed at assemblies and in the court on Memorial Day.

Girls' Glee Club

THE 88 members of the Girls' Glee Club contributed greatly to making the opera melodious and colorful.

The girls' Junior Glee, started this year, will furnish members for next year's senior club, having proven their ability.

Coach Heinrick

Varsity Football

BY defeating Lincoln 18 to 0, and winning the city championship in the annual Thanksgiving Day battle, the Stadium Varsity added a smashing finale to a rather mediocre season. Under the able leadership of Coach Heinrick, who took over the coaching job this season, the Tigers turned out to be a fast, powerful team, but bad breaks and the inability to click at the right moment greatly lowered their standing.

Opening their season against Olympia on Sept. 21, the Bengals dropped a 20 to 0 decision to the Bruins. The following week a victory-thirsty team pounded out a 12 to 0 win against their traditional rival, Lincoln. The Abe defense was unable to cope with the power-house tactics shown by the Blue and Gold squad.

On Oct. 5, although outplayed, the Bengals' stone-wall defense held a tricky Bremerton aggregation to a scoreless tie.

Even though a last half comeback kept the Aberdeen Bobcats on their heels and tallied six points for the Stadiumites, they were unable to overcome the Harbor team's first half lead, and lost an 18 to 6 decision on Oct. 11. On Oct. 18 the Tigers again jumped into the win column by virtue of a 7 to 0 victory over Bellarmine. During the contest the Lions crossed the 50-yard line only once, and the Stadium machine rolled up 243 yards from scrimmage.

Although Stadium was defeated 13 to 9 by Hoquiam the following Friday, the Bengals gave the fans the biggest surprise of the season. Two lucky touchdowns in the first quarter saved the day for the Grizzlies, but from then on, they were constantly fighting to stave off the Bengal pack. The last three quarters saw the highly-touted Harbor team pushed down the field on two straight drives that netted the Tigers nine points. The third drive was well on its way when the gun sounded.

On Nov. 9 the Tigers, unable to stop Gebbert, Everett backfield ace, lost a 12 to 0 decision on the Seagulls' field. Traveling to Bellingham on Nov. 15, the Blue and Gold, although outplaying the Whatcom High team in every department of the game, lost by a heart-breaking score of 7 to 6.

The Turkey Day game saw an abrupt change in the Tigers' fortunes. Taking the offensive from the first, the Bengals, time and again, drove deep into Abe territory with thrusts that were stopped only by a desperate Lincoln defense. In the fourth quarter the Blue and Gold machine hit its stride, and in the last nine minutes of play, scored three times.

The Tiger Line Warms Up

All-City

CAPT. EARL PLATT — END

ALL-CITY

Finishing his second season on the Varsity, Earl proved himself to be one of the best defensive players on the squad. His ability to hold up his end of the line classed him as a dependable mainstay at all times. As captain, he did an excellent job of leading the team throughout the season.

JACK POWELL — GUARD

ALL-CITY

Jack was one of the most dependable defensive players on the Blue and Gold this year. His work at opening holes for the hard driving Tiger backs was also consistently good during the entire season. Jack, a two-year letterman, will not be back next year.

ARCHIE HEATON — END

ALL-CITY

Archie was without a doubt the best defensive end in the city. For two years he has held a flank position, and it was very seldom that opposing teams gained any ground around his end of the line. Archie, who graduates this year, will leave a spot that will be hard to fill.

ART FREBERG — TACKLE

ALL-CITY

During his second year on the Varsity, Art turned in a record that easily classed him as the best tackle in the city. His constant aggressiveness made him a continual worry to opposing backfields. Art will not be back next year and his position will be a hard one to fill.

GENE GUNDERSON — GUARD

ALL-CITY

Gene, another two-year letterman, not only held down a guard position but also took care of the team's kicking. His punting, which was consistently good, was the main factor in pulling the Tigers out of many a tight spot. Gene will be missed badly next season.

CARL OPOLSKY — HALF

ALL-CITY

Carl proved himself to be quite a prodigy in the football world, when he earned a first string position and a place on the all-city team while still a sophomore. He was always one of the most dependable ground gainers and will be a valuable cog in next season's grid machine.

FRANK LONDOS — FULL

ALL-CITY

Playing his first season on the Varsity, Frank was one of the Tigers' main threats in both line-plunging and broken field running. The brunt of the team's power was carried by Frank, who, at all times, could be depended upon to come through without faltering. He will be back next season.

ED BUCSKO — CENTER

As a senior playing his first year on the Varsity, Ed did an excellent job at center. Blocking several punts during the season, he gave Stadium a number of chances to turn defeat into victory. His spirit and fight won for him the team's Inspirational Award.

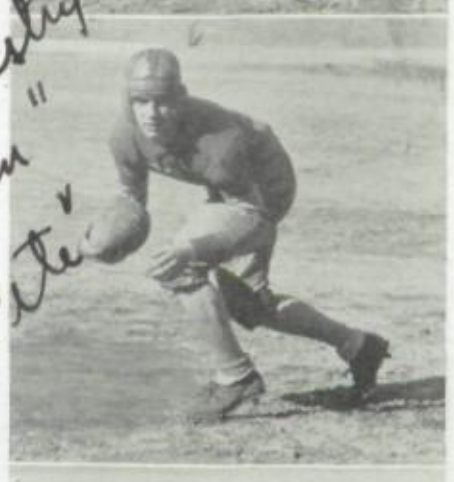
JIM WILLIAMS — TACKLE

Jim held down a tackle berth throughout the season and turned in an enviable record. He could always be depended upon to open holes in an opposing line and was one of the hardest tacklers on the squad. Jim's graduation this year will leave a spot that will be hard to fill.

NATHAN HALE — HALF

Coming up from the Jayvees, Nathan became a permanent fixture at a halfback post where he did an excellent job. From this position he handled most of the wide runs for the team and was always one of the squad's best groundgainers. He will not be back next season.

Varsity



BOB ARPKE — CENTER

The only three-year letterman on the squad, Bob could always be depended on to take care of his position at all times. Even though he was smaller than many of his teammates, his constant fight made him a dangerous adversary to any opponent.

ED PEDERSEN — HALF

Ed, the only returning all-city player, unfortunately broke his leg early in the season so was forced to watch the rest of the games from the sidelines. During his career at Stadium, Ed proved himself to be one of the finest broken-field runners the school has ever turned out.

WALT SNELL — FULL

"Doc" was another recruit from the Jayvees who worked at the fullback post. His line-plunging ability and unquenchable spirit pulled Stadium out of many a tight spot. "Doc" also proved to be an excellent defensive player. He will not be back next season.

BILL STIMPSON — HALF

Bill's season this year was a continual fight against a bad knee which kept him out of the lineup most of the time. When it was possible for him to play, he did an excellent job despite his handicapped condition. Bill will not be back next season.

To a fellow rat-racer, see you at the fellowship. Dick

LEE BICKENBACH — QUARTER

From the quarterback berth, Lee did an unreproachable job of guiding the team. He also handled most of the passing. Through his ability, spirit and generalship he was elected to captain the squad next season.

To a swell kid. Don't forget the fellowships. Bill

BILL HOLMES — TACKLE

Although only a junior, Bill has earned two letters on the Varsity. He will undoubtedly be one of the mainstays of the team next year, as he can always be called upon to open holes or come through with an extra spurt when needed. Few tackles turned in a better performance than Bill.

Sincerely Hal

HAROLD WEAVER — END

For two years, Hal has overcome the handicap of his small size and has done some fine work at the end post. Although he usually found himself up against men much bigger than himself, his constant aggressiveness made him well respected among the Tigers' opponents. Hal will not be back next year.

Football

EWIN SHANNON — GUARD

"Swede" finished his second year on the Varsity with a fine record for his constant fight and aggressiveness. Forced to change from tackle to guard in the middle of the season, his change of assignments made no difference in his consistently good play. He will not be back next season.

BOB WINDEN — TACKLE

Earning his Varsity letter in his senior year, Bob was undoubtedly one of the hardest workers on the squad. At the tackle position he could always be depended upon to do his best. Bob's spirit and fight will be missed greatly next season.

Bill you're a swell guy. We'll be a lot of classes together yet. Don't forget Dick

ELWIN STERLING — CENTER

"Dick" is another two-year letterman who could be depended upon to come through whenever he was needed. At the center position he proved to be a steady player and a constant threat to opposing ball carriers. He will not be back next year, and his loss will be felt greatly.

BOB DAVIES — HALF

Being the smallest man on the squad as well as a sophomore proved to be no handicap to Bob. Through his constant fight he became the team's speed merchant and could always be counted on to come through in a pinch. Bob will be a valuable addition to next season's team.

Row 3: Frank Tangorra, Dale McCord, Frank Londos, Jack Snyder, Joe Beckman, Don Murphy, Joe Johnson, Bill Leith.
Row 2: "Bud" Thatcher, Mogens Clement, Don Boyle, Chuck Allen, John Boyle, John Eshelman, Burrill Breseman, Bill Mathias.
Row 1: Bert Wright, Chuck Rowland, Bill Stocklin, Jack Nichols, Jack Obenour, Bill Doherty, Kenny Perry.

Reserve Football

PLAYING the biggest and toughest schedule of any reserve grid team in the history of the school, the Tiger seconds won the city title from Lincoln and turned in a very enviable record.

Of the eight games played, the Bengals won four, tied three and lost a tilt to the Pacific Lutheran College Reserves.

The schedule was:

Sept. 17: Stadium 0, Fife Varsity 0; Sept. 25: Stadium 0, Fife Varsity 0; Sept. 30: Stadium 13, Gig Harbor Varsity 0; Oct. 7: Stadium 0, Lincoln 0; Oct. 14: P. L. C. 2, Stadium 0; Oct. 28: Stadium 18, Lincoln 0; Oct. 29: Stadium 7, Olympia 0; Nov. 4: Stadium 7, Lincoln 6.

Jayvee Football

THIS year's Jayvee season did not turn out to be as good as many they have had in past years.

In the city title series, the Bengals made a desperate attempt to capture the trophy but were defeated twice by Lincoln.

Against the Abes in the deciding game of the series, the Tigers were never outfought but came out on the short end of a 7 to 6 score.

The schedule was:

Sept. 16: Stadium 0, Puyallup Varsity 40; Sept. 20: Stadium 0, Highline Varsity 50; Oct. 4: Stadium 0, Lincoln 7; Oct. 23: Stadium 13, Lincoln 7; Nov. 1: Stadium 6, Lincoln 7.

Row 3: Jim Fowler, Frank Roach, Bill Thiel Lawrence Lavik, Sam Wilson, Doug Turnbull, Harry Holm, Bob Matthews, Arthur Doll, Don Erdtinger, Bob Allison, Mr. Jolliffe.
Row 1: Howard Ainsworth, Ken Coffman, Bill Cunningham, Hal Kapphahn, Ken Schilling, John Marble, Dick Shelley, "Bud" Nash, Hal Byer, Bill Zenk.

Sports Managers

RUNNING the coaches a close second in the race for Stadium's most thankless job are the managers.

Their work, with Mr. Arpke as their adviser, as usual was above par, and all the jobs of marking fields, taking care of equipment, acting as water boys and many other duties were well taken care of.

Midget Football

FOR the second successive year, the Midgets tied with Lincoln for the city title. The Mildred Lloyd trophy, however, will remain here by virtue of the Midgets' win in 1933.

In city play the Bengal Babes won four games, tied one and lost one to Lincoln by a heartbreaking score of 7 to 6.

In the last game of the season with Lincoln, the Tigers scored in a last quarter comeback to tie up both the score and the city title.

The scores were:

Stadium 7, Bellarmine 0; Stadium 6, Lincoln 7; Stadium 13, Bellarmine 6; Stadium 12, Lincoln 0; Stadium 15, Bellarmine 0; Stadium 6, Lincoln 6.

Swimming

MEETING some harder opposition than usual this year, Stadium's swimmers lost two meets. This brings the total to three tilts lost in the history of Tiger swimming teams.

At the state meet at Seattle the Bengals were unable to defend their two-year championship and dropped to third place.

The season's scores:

Stadium 44, U. of W. Frosh 31; Stadium 41, Lincoln 34; Stadium 42, Vancouver 33; Lincoln 39, Stadium 36; Aberdeen 42, Stadium 33; Stadium 43, Aberdeen 32.

Wrestling

THE Tiger grapplers broke exactly even this season. They won twice from Fife and lost to Salem, Ore., and Lincoln.

Under Student Coach "Doc" Snell, this year's squad, although not as powerful as some in the past, brought to light some fine prospects for next season's team.

The team traveled to Camas for the Washington state high school championships, but was unable to win titles in any of the weight divisions.

The season's scores were:

Stadium 51, Fife 14; Stadium 22½, Fife 12½; Salem 21, Stadium 14; Lincoln 22½, Stadium 10½.

Row 2: Frank Tangorra, Bill Pedersen, Bill Harris, Jack Snyder, Bill Hickey, Don Diney, Tommy Roy, Harry Rhodes, Ewin Shannon, Wilbur Roberts, Mel Gillespie, Ed Cramblet.

Row 2: Mr. Perkins, Mr. Jolliffe, Mr. Heinrick, Mr. Morris.
Row 1: Mr. Palmer, Mr. Arpke, Miss McCulloch, Mr. Christie, Mr. Lowman

Yell Leaders

STADIUM'S noise makers hit their high spot when they led the Tiger rooters to another win in the race for the Hi-Y Pep Trophy at the Thanksgiving game.

Under the leadership of Brice Howard, yell king, the yell squad saw to it that the Stadium teams were never in need of noisy encouragement. Harry and Hal Miller were appointed yell dukes.

Stadiana chose the girl leaders—Marge McDowell as yell queen and Sara Jayne Perkins and Jerry Hughes as assistants.

Coaches

TAKING over their thankless and weary jobs again this year, Stadium's coaches did their usual fine work.

Stadium's high standing in athletics is due largely to the unceasing effort and time spent by those who guide the destinies of the different squads.

Mr. Morris, as athletic director, also headed the Varsity basketball squad, and Mr. Heinrick took over the duties of Varsity football coach. Mr. Lowman again headed the Midget football and basket ball teams, while Mr. Jolliffe coached the Jayvee gridders. As usual Mr. Palmer took charge of swimming and tennis; Miss McCulloch, girls' sports, and Mr. Perkins, golf. Mr. Arpke continued in charge of the equipment.

Jerry Hughes, Brice Howard, Marge McDowell, Harry Miller, Sara Jayne Perkins.

Varsity Basket Ball

ALTHOUGH not a perfect season, the Varsity record this year credits them with their seventh consecutive city championship and third place in the Big Six Conference.

In the city series the Bengals lost only one out of eight games, while in the Big Six they won five and lost five.

Bob Richards led the Big Six scoring this year, while Captain Earl Platt captured top position in the city. Both players were selected on the all-conference team.

Opening the season against Olympia, the Tigers took a 35 to 29 decision from the Bruins, but the following week they were handed a 29 to 9 setback by Hoquiam.

Stadium's second defeat came at the hands of Aberdeen by the score of 27 to 26, but the next week a fighting team took a 45 to 14 victory from Bellarmine in their first city-series game.

In the second city-series game, the Tigers dropped a close 20 to 21 tilt to Lincoln. Shortly afterwards, they again defeated the Bells 28 to 22, only to fall before Olympia by the score of 29 to 36. In a return match with the Abes, the Bengals won 35 to 16, but a week later lost a heart-breaking 35 to 36 decision to Hoquiam.

The Tigers then added to their city title lead by trouncing Bellarmine 54 to 18, and a week later, safely tucked the title away with a 33 to 21 win over Lincoln. Stadium took the last two games of the season, beating Bellarmine 45 to 15 and Lincoln 38 to 19.

The Bengals fared rather badly at the State Meet. Although they won their first game, they failed to place in the final rating.

The Bengals recover the ball off the backboard against Lincoln.

CAPT. EARL PLATT — CENTER

Elected to lead his teammates through the '36 season, Earl proved his worth by walking off with city high-scoring honors and by being rated all-conference center. His work under the backboard and his close checking made him a valuable asset during his last year on the Tiger squad.

WILLIE GLUNDBERG — FORWARD

Willie was one of the most consistent performers on the Blue and Gold squad this season. His ability was officially recognized when he was given honorable mention in the Big Six ratings. Only a junior, Willie undoubtedly will prove a mainstay of next season's team.

BOB RICHARDS — FORWARD

A member of the all-conference team, high scorer of the conference and second in city league standings, Bob was one of the outstanding hoop stars of the Big Six. Bob is only a junior and much is expected of him next season.

MARVIN SCOTT — GUARD

Coming up from the Midgets, "Skeejit" rapidly earned a first string position. A fast breaker and a close checker, he proved to be perfectly capable of taking care of his share of the back court. "Skeejit" has another year of competition.

ERNIE MYERS — GUARD

Ernie's ability wasn't discovered until midseason. He got his chance in the Bellarmine game and held down a regular berth from that time on. With the experience he obtained this year he will be an important cog in the 1937 hoop machine.

ED BUCSKO — GUARD

At a guard position, Ed proved to be one of the team's long-shot artists. He was seldom among the high scorers, but his unexpected shots and his close guarding in the back court kept the Bengals out of many a tight spot. Ed will not be back next year.

HAL WEAVER — GUARD

Hal was one of the main challengers for the long-shot title. In the back court his constant aggressiveness made him a dangerous opponent. Hal could always be depended on to handle his job with unreproachable ability. He will not be back next year.

BOB PHILIP — FORWARD

Bob, another letterman, had the misfortune to receive an elbow injury early in the season that kept him out of many of the games. Even with his injury, Bob was considered the best ball handler on the squad. Bob will not be back next year.

HERBERT HITE — CENTER

Herb was another recruit from the Midgets, and although he was unable to earn a first-string position during his first Varsity season, he could always be depended on to handle the center berth when needed. His height made him especially dangerous to opposing pivot men.

BOB DAVIES — FORWARD

Bob was the only sophomore to earn a Varsity letter this year. Although he was smaller than most of the players, he was one of the best passers on the squad. With the experience he gained this season, Bob should prove very valuable to next year's Bengal team.

Row 2: Glen McKinney, Bob Haskins, Lee Bickenbach, Frank London, Jack Nichols, Vincent Lucich.
Row 1: Mr. Morris, Ed Rohrback, Bob Davies, Carl Opolsky, Bill Zunk.

Reserve Basket Ball

IN THEIR respective division, the Reserves topped the Varsity this season. The Bengal seconds took both the Big Six and the city title.

Out of the eleven games played, they lost only twice, once to Hoquiam and once to Lincoln.

The scores were:

Stadium 30, Olympia 18; Stadium 17, Hoquiam 16; Stadium 26, Aberdeen 13; Stadium 21, Lincoln 19; Stadium 16, Bellarmine 15; Stadium 26, Lincoln 24; Stadium 27, Olympia 15; Stadium 12, Hoquiam 24; Stadium 34, Bellarmine 26; Lincoln 20, Stadium 16; Stadium 25, Bellarmine 23.

Midget Basket Ball

THIS year the Stadium Midgets captured their eighth consecutive city title.

They lost only one game this season when they went down 30 to 25 before Lincoln, whom they later defeated for the second time.

In pre-season games the Tigers defeated the varsity squads from Yelm, Anacortes, Rainier, the Anacortes reserves and Seattle prep school.

The scores were:

Stadium 27, Bellarmine 14, Stadium 29, Lincoln 19; Stadium 32, Bellarmine 23; Lincoln 30, Stadium 25; Stadium 38, Bellarmine 19; Stadium 20, Lincoln 13.

Mr. Palmer, "Lefty" Eden, "Righty" Eden, Bill Taylor, "Chuck" Arnold, Hal Weaver, Frank Walters, Brad Crowe.

Golf

WHEN The Tahoma was printed, the golfers had played no matches, but Mr. Perkins had prospects of another good team.

Bob Richards, Bob Philip and Al Rodahl, the three returning lettermen, will undoubtedly bolster the Tiger's chances.

The qualifying matches also showed some excellent material in the new members and proved that Stadium will be a formidable opponent this year.

The schedule for this season includes two matches with Everett, Aberdeen, Lincoln, Olympia and Bremerton.

Tennis

AT THE time of writing, the tennis season had not opened and little was known of the team's strength.

Coach Palmer had three lettermen, Hal Weaver, Brad Crowe and "Chuck" Arnold, as a foundation.

The school tournament gave Coach Palmer a fairly good idea of the ability of the new members and hopes of turning out again a winning team.

Plans for meets with Lincoln, Bremerton and four meets with Bellarmine had been completed.

Track

UNDER the captaincy of Archie Heaton, the Stadium tracksters opened their season this year with a very decisive win over Bremerton and Puyallup in a triangular meet on April 11.

With Dick Lancaster collecting 13 points and Capt. Heaton gathering 12 points, the Tigers ran up a 79 1/2 score to 41 1/4 for Puyallup and 25 1/4 for Bremerton.

In the field events Lancaster took firsts in the discus and javelin and a second in the shot, while Capt. Heaton won the 100-yard and 200-yard dashes and took third in the shot. "Pat" Johns, Oscar Barger and Dix Liddle made a clean sweep of the broad jump, and Gene Nelson had little trouble taking the 440-yard dash.

Stadium's 880-yard and shuttle relay teams took their events, and Dewey West won the high jump with a leap of 5 feet, 8 inches.

Although the Bengals' time in the sprints has been slower than usual, their recent improvement and their strength in the field events gave them slightly better than an even break to win the city title from Lincoln this year.

Coach Christie is looking forward with hopes of sending a large number to the State Meet at Pullman this year.

The remaining schedule lists the Centralia Relays, a triangular meet with Olympia and Aberdeen, Centralia, Penn Relays and the city meet for this season.

Coach Christie and Track Candidates

*Row 2: Mr. Heinrick, Harry Werbisky, Bob Knesal, Fred Le Veque, Ed Bucsko, Mal Stevens, Ed Ploof, Earl Platt, Nathan Hale, Arnold Schurb, Bill Stocklin, Hal Weaver, Dick Pease.
Row 1: Marvin Scott, Paul Barrager, Al Libke, Mel Gillespie, George Robinson, Jack Tanner, Bill Zenk, Doug Turnbull, Bill Guyles, Ed Turner, Tom Hall, Vincent Lucich.

Baseball Club

IN AN effort to bring back baseball as a major sport in Stadium, the Baseball Club was organized largely through the efforts of Paul Barrager.

The club was successful and the national sport made a comeback among Blue and Gold athletics.

The organization was fortunate in having Mr. Heinrick, who is quite prominent in baseball circles and ex-Blue and Gold player, to act as adviser and coach.

Baseball Team

AFTER a lapse of seven years, baseball made a comeback as a major sport. The ability shown by the squad in practice and in the interclass meet gave promise of Stadium's having a powerful nine for the coming season.

Coach Heinrick picked his squad from the players in the interclass meet, held by the Baseball Club, and Marvin Scott was elected to lead the team.

When The Tahoma went to press the Bengals were scheduled to meet Aberdeen twice, Sumner, Shelton twice and Olympia.

Row 4: Bob Bergman, Ed Bucsko, Bob Ringwood, Lawrence Lavik, Will Glundberg, Carl Opolsky, Al Libke, Dix Liddle, Frank Londos, Marvin Scott, Mel Gillespie, Bill Zenk, Roger Dutton, Paul Barragar.
Row 3: Bill Moore, Bill Stocklin, Dale Pierce, Harry Werbisky, Mal Stevens, Bob Honesal, Tom Hall, Bob Burkland, Allen Bergland, Jack Tanner, Maurice Turnbull, Gordon Russ, John Flynn.

1. Willie Glundberg sinks one at the state tournament.

2. Midgets make a short gain against Lincoln.

. Jayvees play the Abes on the home stamping grounds.

4. Capt. Earl Platt snags a long one in the Thanksgiving day game.

5. Capt. Heaton puts the shot.

6. Capt. Platt swishes one against Lincoln.
